

Jack Weis
Chenery Terrace
Town Meeting Member, Precinct 1

I am writing to urge you to vote for Adam Dash for Selectman on Tuesday, April 4th. The combination of Adam's skills, experience, and temperament will ensure that he is a strong and effective Selectman.

As the senior governing body for the Town, the Board of Selectmen should reflect the culmination of a progression of leadership in town governance, rather serve as an entry level position. And, in that regard, Adam has been actively involved in town governance – as a Town Meeting member since 2008, and, more importantly, as a member of the Warrant Committee (the town's primary financial watchdog) since 2009.

Over the past six years, I have had the opportunity to meet with the Warrant Committee on multiple occasions. On those occasions, as well as at numerous Town Meetings, I have been impressed by the insightful questions that Adam asks and the well-reasoned positions that he takes. His questions and comments are invariably right on the mark.

I was also impressed by the approach Adam took in building support for the new Underwood Pool project in 2013. He sincerely solicited public input throughout the design process, making it clear that listening carefully to the citizens was more than just a pro forma exercise. Someone who views his role as a steward for the citizens of the town, not someone who personally wants to control the decisions, is precisely what we need in the position of Selectman.

I urge you to vote for Adam Dash. He has a wealth of experience in town matters and the genuine temperament that we need in a Selectman.
